

PROGRAM UNDERWRITERS

Underwriting Procedures and Guidelines Made Simple

DATV encourages you to seek financial or in-kind material contributions for your productions; you may seek the support of Underwriters and Grantors at any time during the pre-production, production, or post-production of your program. You must adhere to the following guidelines when you plan to solicit or receive contributions on behalf of your program:

1. Before making any solicitations for program funding, you must meet with DATV staff regarding your plans. At that meeting, we will review with you the policies and procedures governing underwriting solicitations and credits, and help you draft a budget and a schedule of credits. No solicitation may be made on behalf of a program unless DATV has given its prior written approval. DATV's name may not be used in connection with any program or solicitation without its prior written approval.
2. You must explicitly inform all prospective underwriters that you are a community producer acting on your own behalf - not an DATV official, and that DATV does not assume any responsibility for your program.
3. All underwriting funds must be paid directly to DATV. DATV will reimburse you for your expenses upon the presentation of receipts. After the completion of your program, all remaining funds will remain in DATV's custody.
4. All underwriting funds must be used for production expenses only, such as the costs of media, music rights, set supplies, and talent. Since your membership dues cover only a small fraction of the actual costs associated with your production, 40% of your budget will be allocated to offset DATV's facility and staff time costs.
5. Because DATV's facilities may not be used for personal gain, the producer and members of the production crew may NOT be paid for their efforts. Use of DATV facilities for commercial, profit-making, or private use under the pretense of creating Public Access programming is a Major Violation of DATV's policies. If you would like to raise funds in order to get paid (and pay your crew) for your efforts, you must enter into a Rental Agreement with DATV and pay DATV's market rates for use of the production facilities. In this instance, DATV still must pre-authorize all solicitation materials or grant applications involving use of DATV facilities, but all underwriting funds will be paid directly to you, the producer.
6. Where grants are applied for and received, DATV must be written into and receive 40% of the budget. All grant applications involving use of DATV facilities must be preauthorized by the Executive Director.

Because DATV's non-profit status prohibits us from running commercial advertising on Channel 8, 10, and 22, you must adhere to the guidelines governing what kinds of donor acknowledgments are permissible. The following summarizes DATV's policies. If you are ever in doubt as to what is permissible practice, consult DATV staff.

PERMISSIBLE Material for Underwriter Acknowledgments:

1. Logos and/or corporate slogans which identify and do not promote;
2. Value neutral descriptions of a product line or service;
3. Brand and trade names and product or service listings;
4. Visual depictions of up to two (2) specific products. However, products may not be shown in use;
5. Showing the outside of an underwriter's business, because a building may be the only possible representation of an underwriter's product;
6. Location information, telephone numbers, email addresses and website information provided you don't ask the viewer to take any direct action (see Prohibition #3 below).

PROHIBITED Material for Underwriter Acknowledgments:

1. Qualitative or comparative language or claims;
2. Price information;
3. Solicitation of direct viewer response of any kind, such as " ... buy one today ... ", " ... give us a call at ... ", or " ... visit our showroom located at ... "
4. Use of official company "spokespersons" doing video testimonials or audio voiceovers. Generic employees are acceptable; use of the station's "official voice" in local underwriting credits is preferred;
5. Music with lyrics. This does not preclude use of musical signatures that are part of a company's corporate identity, provided the signature is not an advertising jingle.

For Credit length, type of credit, and frequency, refer to the current rate schedule.

Underwriter's Disclosure Form

Producers: Give this form to all prospective underwriters. You and anyone choosing to underwrite your program must complete and sign the Disclosure and Agreement Forms where indicated.

This letter serves to introduce you to Dracut Access Television (DATV) and its association with _____, a Member of DATV and an independent Public Access producer using DATV's facilities, equipment, and channel time.

About DATV

Dracut Access Television is a membership-based, non-profit corporation whose mission is to help all Dracut citizens and institutions realize their potential through the medium of cable television, and to encourage and facilitate their fullest participation in the production and distribution of quality programming by and for the Dracut community. At DATV, Dracut citizens obtain hands-on training in video production techniques and media literacy, and enjoy free access to professional television equipment for the purpose of creating community programming that provides a unique, valuable, and locally-relevant option in non-commercial programming.

Membership in the Corporation is open to all individuals who reside, work, or have taxpayer status in Dracut, and to all organized groups with offices in Dracut. The annual Dues are $10 for individuals, $20 for families and $35 for organizations. Most of DATV's services, including training in TV production and use of our equipment and time on Channel 8, 10, and 22 to create and distribute non-commercial programming, are provided free to Corporation Members.

Once trained and certified in the use of DATV's facilities, members may use them to produce non-commercial programs for cablecast on Access Channel 8, 10, and 22. DATV encourages, but in no way requires, Access producers to seek underwriters who will provide material consideration for their productions, through cash grants or in-kind donations of goods or services. These contributions must be used only for activities related to that specific production, to cover such things as the cost of media, set supplies, music rights, etc. In exchange for these donations, producers may offer underwriters on-air acknowledgment of their support, subject to the guidelines outlined below.

Producer's Relationship to DATV

Prospective program underwriters should also clearly understand that public access producers using DATV's facilities are not employed by DATV, and do not represent DATV in any official capacity. They are strictly independent volunteers, using DATV's facilities to produce programs on their own behalf and for the good of the community. They cannot make any commitments on behalf of DATV, and DATV does not assume any responsibility for their programs. DATV's name may not be used in connection with any program without its prior written approval.

All Program Content must be Non-Commercial

Per the Corporation's by-laws and policies, its Agreement with the cable operator, and its tax-exempt status under Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, no commercial content is allowed on the Access Channels. Commercial content includes, but is not limited to, product placement, advertisements of products or services of for-profit entities, qualitative or comparative descriptions of products or services, or testimonials for the purpose of commercial exploitation. Political advertising is also prohibited.

Specific Guidelines for Underwriting Acknowledgments

All acknowledgments must adhere to the following guidelines:

1. All acknowledgments shall open with "Support for the following program has been provided in part by ..." or something substantially similar. Contributors of products or services may be acknowledged in the credits with specific references to the type of their donation. For example, "Catering provided by ... "
2. Acknowledgments may include the following:
 - Logos and/or corporate slogans which identify and do not promote;
 - Shots of the outside of an underwriter's business;
 - Location information and telephone numbers provided you don't ask the viewer to take any direct action (see #3c below).
 - Value neutral descriptions of a product line or service;
 - The mention of brand and trade names and particular products only if necessary for identification purposes; (For example, "Computer World, authorized dealer of IBM computers" is OK, but "Stop & Shop, this week featuring a sale on Maxwell House coffee" is not.)
 - Visual depictions of up to two (2) specific products in a value-neutral setting provided they are not shown in use.
3. The following practices convey a more "commercial" impression and are NOT permitted:
 - Qualitative or comparative language or claims;
 - Price information;
 - Solicitation of direct viewer response of any kind, such as " ... buy one today ... "" ... give us a call at ... ", or "... visit our showroom located at..."
 - Use of official company "spokespersons" doing video testimonials or audio voiceovers. Generic employees are OK; use of the station's "official voice" is preferred;
 - Moving products displayed in use on the air;
 - Product sounds (e.g., motor starting in a Champion spark plug credit);
 - Music with lyrics. This does not preclude use of musical signatures that are part of a company's corporate identity, provided they are not advertising jingles.

DATV Acts As the Banker

While the responsibility for program content and delivery rests solely with the Public Access producer, all underwriting contributions must be disclosed to and pre-approved by DATV staff through the Executive Director and all funds must be paid directly to DATV, which will reimburse the producer for their production expenses upon the presentation of satisfactory receipts.

Underwriting Authorization

Producers: Make sure that you have read and thoroughly understand the information below. The form must be completed by you and submitted to and approved by DATV staff before you may begin to solicit underwriting support for your production.

What Is Underwriting and Why Is It Important?

Dracut Community Television (DATV) encourages but in no way requires community producers such as yourself to seek financial support or contributions of goods and services for your productions. Any such payment of monies or in-kind donations of goods or services (other than one's time) is considered underwriting, and should be acknowledged in your program. Underwriting is distinct from advertising, both in its intent and its on-air presentation. Underwriters are those who want to support your program and are satisfied with a public thank-you; advertisers are those who want to promote themselves and expect commercial time. Because of DATV's non-profit status, commercial advertising is prohibited on the Access Channels. But consistent with our aim to facilitate quality programming that develops loyal audiences and encourages as many participants and supporters from the local community as possible, DATV encourages you to seek underwriting support for your productions. Such efforts are beneficial in several key ways:

- You increase the community's awareness of and stake in the success of your show;
- You build a reservoir of funds dedicated specifically to improving the production values of your own program;
- You help offset DATV's actual costs of facilitating your production, thus freeing up more funds to expand DATV's facilities and services; and
- You help the underwriter gain more public exposure and community goodwill.

What are the Guidelines for Soliciting Underwriters?

You must adhere to the following guidelines if you plan to solicit or receive underwriting contributions on behalf of your program.

1. No solicitations may be made on behalf of a program or program series until you the producer have met with DATV staff regarding your plans and have received written authorization to proceed. Such authorization shall indicate the period of time or number of episodes in a specific program series for which the producer's underwriting activities are approved, not to exceed one year or 52 episodes, whichever comes first. You may initiate this process at any time during the preproduction, production, or post-production of your program. DATV's name may not be used in connection with any program or solicitation without its prior written approval. DATV staff will help you draw up a budget sheet itemizing all costs, advise you on appropriate techniques for acknowledging underwriters, and support your solicitation efforts.
2. You must explicitly inform all prospective underwriters that you are a community producer acting on your own behalf - not an DATV official, and that DATV does not assume any responsibility for your program.
3. You must provide Underwriter's Disclosure and Agreement Forms to all prospective underwriters. You and anyone choosing to underwrite your program must complete and sign these forms where indicated, and submit to DATV staff for approval.
4. All underwriting contributions must be disclosed to and pre-approved by DATV staff, through the Executive Director and used only for activities directly related to the specified production, to cover such things as the cost of media, music rights, set supplies, and crew refreshments. Since your membership dues cover just a small fraction of the actual costs associated with your production, 40% of your budget will be retained by DATV to offset the real costs associated with your use of the facilities.
5. Because DATV's facilities may not be used for personal gain, the producer and members of the production crew may NOT be paid for their efforts. Use of DATV facilities and/or equipment for commercial, profit-making, or private use under the pretense of creating Public Access programming is a Major Violation of DATV's policies, as outlined in the Violations section of this guide.

6. If you wish to raise funds in order to get paid (and pay your crew) for your efforts, you must enter into a Rental Agreement with DATV and pay DATV's reduced market rates for using DATV property. In this instance, DATV still must pre-authorize all solicitation materials or grant applications involving the use of DATV facilities and/or equipment, but all underwriting funds will be paid directly to you the producer.
7. All underwriting funds must be paid directly to DATV, which will reimburse you for your expenses upon the presentation of satisfactory receipts. At the conclusion of the time period specified in the Underwriting Authorization, DATV ordinarily assumes custody of all remaining monies and durable goods, but reserves the option of requiring you the producer to promptly and properly dispose of them.
8. Time on the Public Access channel is NOT for sale. Any solicitations made or contributions received on the contingent expectation of receiving exposure on the Public Access channel are subject to DATV's Underwriting Policies, whether or not the producer used DATV's production equipment and/or facilities.

What are the Guidelines Governing Underwriting Credits?

Per the Corporation's by-laws and policies, its Agreement with the cable operator, and its non-profit, tax-exempt status granted under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue code, no commercial content is allowed on the Access Channels. Commercial content includes, but is not limited to, product placement, advertisements of goods or services of for-profit entities, qualitative or comparative descriptions of products or services, or testimonials for the purpose of commercial exploitation. Political advertising is also prohibited.
